DEDICATION OF NEW METHODIST CHURCH

FINE NEW EDIFICE TO BE DEDICATED TOMORROW BY CONGREGATION OF FIRST METHODIST CHURCH IS BUSINESS, SOCIAL AND RELIGIOUS ASSET TO COMMUNITY.

Tomorrow promises to be a great day for the congregation of the First Methodist Church, and for the whole community for that matter. For it can be truly said that the beautiful new church on the corner of Kenwood and Third streets is a great asset to the community. No one will deny that such an enterprise touches the whole city life and business interests. The influence of such a building on the interests of the community cannot be measured. It will be a large factor in bringing to Glendale residents of good moral character and high intellectual and civic ideals.

This beautiful Gothic structure will tomorrow be dedicated with appropriate services to the worship of God and the service of humanity. It is the desire of the pastor and people that the church shall, in the largest and truest sense, serve the community. And if the plans that have been discussed can be carried out many lines of activity will be carried on by this congregation.

The program, as outlined for the services tomorrow, will be such as would honor any temple in any city in the land. Rarely is it that such a program is given. At the morning service, 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. Benjamin L. Haywood, D. D., formerly superintendent of Methodist missions in Porto Rico, now of Riverside, will preach. He is known as a strong preacher, and is a man of winning personality. His success as a pastor-preacher is wonderful.

REV. BENJAMIN S. HAYWOOD.

REV. CHAS. EDW. LOCKE.

SETS POEMS TO MUSIC.

Julius Kranz, the violinist and composer of Glendale, has recently given a musical setting to three poems by Francis Lee Chauvan of Tropico. These songs are entitled "The Lily's Prayer," "Sweet Daffodil" and "The Heart of Midsummer." The poems possess unusual lyric beauty and sentiment, being well adapted to music.

Mr. Chauvan is an author, teacher and reader of much note. He is the author of "Self Instruction in Reading and Speaking," "Immortality" and other poems.

Mr. Chauvan was formerly instructor in oratory and the drama at St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., and other institutions of learning. His numerous recitals have proven that he is a reader and interpreter of much versatility.

PATRIOTIC PARTY.

Mrs. Carroll L. Hare and Miss Lefay Siple entertained a number of their friends at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hare, 508 South Louise street, Thursday evening, June 7.

The home was artistically decorated, the colors, red, white and blue predominating.

The evening was spent playing progressive rook, Miss Ethel Mondon capturing high score for the ladies and Mr. Lyman Balcema for the gentlemen. Silk flags were given as prizes.

Following the games a dainty four-course luncheon was served.

The guests enjoying the delightful affair were the Misses Frances Peckham, Lillian Leppelman, Margaret McPherson, Vera McPherson, Ethel Mondon and Mrs. Roy Smith; Messrs. Frank Liddel, Fred Farmer, Roy Smith, Lyman Balcema, Hugh Freeman, Merideth Siple, Paul McCown and Carroll L. Hare.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

In Glendale Chamber of Commerce someone lately has questioned the right of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to take subscriptions for life membership.

On page 59 of the Record Book of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce are the minutes of the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held on January 14, 1916, called to order by Chairman Usilton, R. M. Jackson, secretary. Article 5 of the constitution was given a new Sec. 5, as follows:

Any member paying Twenty-five ($25.00) dollars in advance, shall be given a receipt for life membership and shall be forever exempt from payment of any further dues.

That ought to settle the question.

THE NEINO CASE.

The 2-year-old Jap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neino, who was injured by the man who attacked him and his mother Thursday forenoon, died last night. The mother gave birth to a child at the sanitarium this morning. It is thought the little babe will live, but the mother's recovery is very doubtful.

It will be remembered by our readers that yesterday's issue of The Evening News gave a full account of the terrible assault made upon Mrs. Neino and her 2-year-old son at their home at 756 South Central, Thursday forenoon.

REX HAMPTON INJURED.

Rex Hampton of Lankershim and a friend were riding a motorcycle on the public highway near Kenneth road today at about 12:30 o'clock when they collided with a roadster driven by Bud Duncan. Hampton was badly injured and was picked up by a Kalem touring car and hurried to the Glendale Sanitarium.

PATRIOTISM BASIS OF FOOD CONTROL

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR HOOVER PLANS TO FIX PRICES BY VOLUNTARY MUTUAL AGREEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Patriotism and not autocracy is to be the basis of food control during the war. Autocratic measures such as absolute price fixing and requisition will not be utilized unless as a last resort. Food Administrator Hoover plans to have prices and supply of food fixed by mutual voluntary agreement. For example he plans to reach an agreement on the part of all concerned on the price of wheat at the rate of $1.50 per bushel. He will call all elevator owners together and tell them that the farmers will sell them wheat at $1.50. He will inform the millers of the same fact and follow this course on through from raw wheat until it becomes flour. He thinks as a result flour will be priced at $6.50 to $7 a barrel, half its present price. He will pursue a similar course in other lines to reduce the price and increase the supply.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The navy department advises to-day of the arrival of the second American naval collier in French waters.

D. A. R. MEETING

MRS. BRALY ENTERTAINS GEN. RICHARD GRIDLEY CHAPTER WITH WHITE BREAKFAST.

Quite the most delightful and elaborate meeting of the Gen. Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A. R., year, was the closing one held Thursday, June 7, when the regent, Mrs. J. H. Braly, entertained the chapter and several guests with a white breakfast at 12 o'clock.

The handsome home of the Bralys was attractively decorated in honor of the occasion with many flags and bouquets of flowers in the patriotic colors. Mrs. Braly was assisted by her courtly husband in welcoming the daughters.

The large table in the dining-room was beautifully decorated with flowers and flags and covers were laid for thirty.

A very delicious four-course breakfast was served and a spirit of cheer and good fellowship marked the closing function of the chapter year.

Mr. Braly, in his delightful way, told several entertaining stories and several of the ladies told amusing anecdotes.

Following the breakfast, Mrs. Braly installed the officers for the ensuing year, and Mrs. C. W. Houston, vice-regent, installed Mrs. Braly as regent.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Barheit, who gave an interesting and helpful talk on the maternity home, which is one of the good works in which the chapter is intensely interested.

A mile of pennies for this important work is the goal set by the chapter, and the treasurer reported $104.25 had already been collected.

A beautiful tribute to Mrs. J. H. Braly was given by the daughters of the chapter, showing their love and loyalty. Each one at this meeting brought her a bouquet of flowers. It was wonderfully touching and beautiful. Flowers of all kinds, great bouquets of roses, carnations, Easter lilies, matilija poppies, flowers in the national colors and a quaint bouquet of sweet smelling flowers made in the fashion of our grandmother's day.

Mrs. Braly, in her charming way, thanked the daughters for the sweet expression of their love, and said they are indeed her daughters. This delightful closing of a helpful and pleasant year will linger long with the members of the Gen. Richard Gridley Chapter.

GLENDALE PASTOR CHOSEN.

At a recent meeting of the Congregational Ministerial Union of Los Angeles and vicinity, Rev. E. H. Willisford of Glendale was elected president to serve for the next year. This organization is composed of the Congregational ministers of all this part of California.

Meetings are held on the first, second and third Mondays of each month, except July, August and September.

The Congregational paper, "The Pacific," published at Berkeley, in speaking of the recent annual conference of the Congregational churches of Southern California, contains this paragraph which will be of interest to Glendale people.

"Under the theme of "Evangelism" there was given a great deal that was of value. There were three topics: 'What Does It Mean to Accept Christ?,' 'A Spiritual Apportionment' and 'Taking Men Alive.' The theme is an old one, often treated. But at Ontario we had new and striking presentations. No one could listen to the addresses on the foregoing topics by the Rev. Messrs. Ide, McLeod, Willisford and Sanderson and not rejoice that Redlands, Claremont, Glendale and East Bakersfield had the men as pastors and all the other Southern California pastors and churches had them as co-workers."

Dr. Willisford's address was on "A Spiritual Apportionment."

BANK INSTALLS CLOCK.

For the convenience of the traveling public the First National Bank of this city has installed a Western Union clock, just above the entrance door to the bank building at the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway.

The face of the clock, the hands and the lettering are sufficiently large to be distinctly seen from the opposite side of the street.

An electric timepiece in such a prominent and visible position on a street where there is so much traffic will be greatly appreciated by the public, and the officers of the bank are to be complimented upon so generously accommodating the people.

“THE GLENDALEIAN PLAN”

Food Problem Solved

By Walt, Le Noir Church, Secretary and General Manager Glendale Chamber of Commerce

Very wise was President Wilson's call to the American people to conserve, increase and multiply the Nation's food supply, and thus stave off, if not entirely prevent, the threatened famine. So nobly did the people respond that the lordly potato has again become merely a plebeian, useful vegetable, which one can now buy for fifty cents per box, with 25 cents promised in the near future. All well and good, so far as it goes. But many who paid more than a dollar a box, in fact ten cents or more a pound, for seed potatoes may become so disgusted with the financial non-returns that next year the potato will likely be tabooed by the average farmer and gardener. The food famine will probably be worse than was predicted, and so feared that an enormous and probably unprofitable crop is being raised. “Hence these tears.”

The same principle will apply to numerous other crops. The people feel first and “reason” later, if at all. But the highest reason is fallible if any one essential fact be wanting. The real famine is much more likely to follow this seeming over-production, which makes producers poorer for lack of market and transportation, instead of richer to the verge of plutocracy, as thousands of hard-working men, women and children fondly dreamed.

But what are we going to do about it? There is, at least in the minds of the people, a great responsibility on the maker of that strong appeal for more food conservation and production, to do something spectacular and sudden, to save the people from the over-production caused by their faith in him, the president, and their ready response to his appeal to their patriotism and humanity.

There is always some way of meeting any threatening situation. In a multitude of counsellors there is strength and, sometimes, wisdom.

As one of President Wilson's many million admirers, I will venture a suggestion, which may be worth his careful consideration because of its intrinsic merit. Besides, it has been thoroughly threshed out mentally by a successful business man, a practical farmer, born and raised on a farm, and now in his grandfatherly age the owner, maker, worker and preserver of three farms in as many states, with as many different climates and essential conditions. This man is Ezra F. Parker, the respected and trusted Glendaleian, and a life member of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

The plan is so simple it may have constitutional prohibitions, if the constitution be wrongly invoked according to precedent, instead of according to reason and righteousness.

But necessity is the mother not only of invention but of use. “These be parlous times and “Safety First, Last and All the Time” is the national slogan: greater than any constitution framed by the fathers and unfitted for conditions they knew not of.

President Wilson holds in his official hand, as chief of army and navy, the sword that will cut the Gordian knot of economic and financial conditions. He is the Nation's emergency plenipotentiary. Instead of loaning further money to the farmers to help them produce so much more food than they will profit by raising, we should establish not a maximum but a minimum price for potatoes, corn, wheat, alfalfa and other necessities, and provide for the certain and prompt payment by the government of that minimum price for all such produce delivered f. o. b. at any and all convenient shipping points, so the people can know that whatever crop they raise, so provided for, will bring a reasonable profit, beyond any question.

In different localities the cost of production could be fairly determined and the price fixed accordingly and certainly, considering all the essential factors in the problem. Then seed sellers would sell seed on credit. Bankers would loan money on crops. Workmen, if need be, would work on credit. And, in a word, prosperity would be placed beyond the peradventure of a doubt. Would not that solve the problem from the producer's viewpoint? It certainly would. We can feed the world if the producers are sure of a profitable market.

But what about the government? First, the government would consider not profit, primarily, but food production and conservation and use. The government would be in a position to do what Joseph did in Egypt: sell food to the world at a fair price or give it away to the needy poor. In any event, the government, better than any private corporation, would handle this emergency proposition for the betterment of humanity.

In such emergency legal opinions as to constitutionality or advisability may be waved aside till the world is saved from starvation, even if it be necessary to carry out such national governmental program by taking charge of any and all needed railroads, steamship lines, or any or all other public utilities, during the continuation of paramount war emergency.

The condition is the thing. Let theories, however tested under other circumstances, wait on facts till the people are once more safely established in whatever conditions may result. Then new or renewed laws and suitable customs may be established accordingly.

The writer believes that Woodrow Wilson is big enough and strong enough and wise enough and loves the whole people enough to do the thing suggested, modified to suit net results as they are achieved.

NOTE: This outline of “The Glendaleian Plan” will at once be sent, as reprints from The Glendale Evening News, to President Wilson and all his cabinet, to all the U. S. senators and congressmen, and to the governors of all the states, as well as to the principal newspapers and magazines; then to the chambers of commerce in the principal cities, so this suggested simple solution of the paramount worldwide food problem may be brought to the consideration of the whole Nation at once. “The Glendaleian Plan” or some modification thereof will prevail.

Secretary Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

RED CROSS WEEK

The President of the United States has set apart this month in which to make a great drive for co-operation with the American Red Cross. This week is June 18 to 23, inclusive, and it is up to us in Glendale to “do our bit.”

Sometimes it has seemed to us that many of our citizens do not realize that we actually are at war, and too many of the efforts made by several warm spirited and active members of our community have not been as successful as they deserved to be largely because of what can only be considered as apathy.

The Evening News proposes to devote some space each day to this subject in the hope that all of its readers may be prepared to respond to the calls made upon them during the National Red Cross Week.

We ought to have a thousand active workers in this cause in Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo. More than a third of this number are already enrolled and it is to be hoped that a generous response may follow the concerted effort which is to be put forth and culminated on June 23 next.

NO EXEMPTIONS!

Every body, young and old, Buy a Bond, lend a hand. It will pay a hundred fold, To benefit our Land!

“Do your bit!” “Do your bit!” Make your money work; With either cash or credit. There's no excuse to shirk.

Unable to join the ranks? And not the sex to enlist? Then a check on one of your banks, Will help as much as this.

Then everybody, everywhere, Who love your country a whit. Don't try to evade your share; But “do your bit,” “do your bit.” C. H. MUHLEMAN, Tropico, Cal.

IF YOU WANT TO FIGHT, JOIN THE MARINES.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Special national marine corps recruiting week begins tomorrow, continuing to June 16.

You must be between 18 and 35 years, and can enlist for the war period only. “Men who want to fight where the action is hottest on land, sea or in the air,” says Maj.-Gen. George Barnett, commander of the Marines Corps, “will find the marine corps offers them a great opportunity to uphold the honor of their country and their flag.”

When a man tells you what a wonderful poker player you are, that man is planning to enjoy life at your expense.

Personals

The family of Guy Pearson has moved up from Brawley, occupying their house at 416 Lomita for the summer.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson has been appointed registrar and those wishing to vote at the Tropico annexation election, and who are not now registered, may do so by applying to Mrs. Richardson.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Beach, Wednesday evening, June 6, a nine-pound baby boy. Mother and son are doing nicely at Thornycroft Hospital. The boy has been named Robert Andrew.

Mr. Newton Van Why of 1542 Vine street was one of the large class of graduates from the U.S.C. last Thursday, receiving his Juris-Doctor degree. Mrs. Zella Robinson of 1530 West Seventh street, a sister of Mr. Van Why, attended the graduation exercises.

Miss Olive Chandler of 1548 Vine street celebrated in honor of her nineteenth birthday Friday evening with an informal dinner party. The guests invited for the occasion were Misses Lena Mae and Leone Brice and Miss Virginia Ergott, all of Los Angeles.

F. J. Miles left Wednesday for Taft, Cal., where he is resuming his former work, drilling in the oil fields. Mrs. Miles expects to leave the first of the week to spend a few weeks at the beach before joining her husband at Taft.

Messrs. Fred and Joe Fishel of Orange Grove avenue, and Mrs. Thomas Gillette of Verdugo road, made up a fishing party last night at Port Los Angeles, leaving Glendale at about 6 o'clock and arriving at their destination an hour later. They all returned home happy this morning, as they each caught a large number of the finny tribe.

The many friends of Miss Mary M. Donichy are indeed sorry to hear of her continued lingering illness, which has confined her to her bed for the past two months. Up until about Christmas of the past year Miss Donichy was a teacher in the Glendale High School, where she was forced to discontinue her work. Besides her 500 high school friends, there are many others of Glendale and vicinity who are earnestly looking forward to her ultimate recovery.

The many friends of Mr. Galen C. Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Gould of 611 South Central avenue, are congratulating him as the result of his recent graduation from the Dental College of the University of Southern California. Thursday of this week he received his degree of D.D.S. (Doctor of Dental Surgery.) and nothing remains for him to do but to pass the State Board examination before beginning his practice. Thursday evening the graduating class was the guests of the faculty members at an elaborate banquet at the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena.

BAND DANCE TONIGHT.

Manager Clifford Furst of the Glendale Municipal Band has made arrangements for a big informal dance, to take place this evening after the regular weekly concert. The affair will take place at Butler's Hall on Brand boulevard, and promises to be successful, both from a financial and social standpoint. The admission price will be 10 cents, and as the band is one of Glendale's most worthy organizations a large crowd should turn out to make it a success. The purpose of the dance is to raise money to pay the regular expenses of the band.

PARLIAMENTARY SECTION.

The Parliamentary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 at Masonic Temple. The lesson is the report of the election board, according to the by-laws of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

HELEN I. CAMPBELL, Curator.

Some people appreciate beautiful things, but most people merely care for ornaments.

ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE.

Last Wednesday evening the Misses Bernie and Maude Morehouse, who live with their parents at 133 Lomita avenue, were the hostesses of a very novel surprise party, given at their home in honor of their mother, Mrs. Maggie E. Morehouse. The occasion was Mrs. Morehouse's fortieth wedding anniversary and that year being designated by the ruby, everything was carried out in red, even to the refreshments. The three front rooms were exquisitely decorated with red roses and carnations and also with the same colored crepe paper, beautifully harmonizing with the dark green walls in the background. At about 7 o'clock one of the young ladies cleverly enticed her mother to go on an automobile trip, and upon returning two hours later she was dumfounded by the sudden change in the appearance of the house. Where the rooms were in their regular order two hours earlier everything resembled a crimson flower garden now. All of the guests had arrived, and the guest of honor was indeed surprised, which is not generally the case at "surprise" parties. The evening was spent socially, with several musical selections slipped in. Just before the party broke up three courses of delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Those who enjoyed the evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Siple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Latter, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Morehouse, Miss Lottie Morehouse, Miss Bernie Morehouse, Miss Maude Morehouse and Adell Morehouse.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S CITY CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Los Angeles Woman's City Club, held recently at Blanchard Hall, was one of unusual interest. The luncheon held at noon, at which over 150 guests were seated, was one of the most delightful of the year. Among the special guests were Mr. A. J. Bartlett, president of the Men's City Club, and the past presidents of the Woman's City Club, Mrs. A. S. Loberger, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. E. C. Bellows, Mrs. Shelly Tolhurst and Mrs. E. R. Brainerd.

The luncheon was followed by the program, at which the president, Mrs. Lewis R. Works, presided, which included reports of chairmen of committees, as follows: Program, Dr. Jessie A. Russell; publicity, Mrs. Clarence Von Graham; hospitality, Miss Cora Foy; membership, Dr. N. Evangeline Jordan; public affairs, Mrs. Lewis R. Works; city club extension, Miss Bessie Munn.

The installation of officers for the ensuing year then followed—President, Mrs. Clarence Van Graham; first vice-president, Dr. Jessie A. Russell; second vice-president, Mrs. Rose C. Bryant; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Herman S. Darling; directors, Mrs. Fred C. Hickok, Miss Elizabeth Kenney, Mrs. Frank E. Wolfe.

A beautiful bronze vase filled with American Beauty roses was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Works, at the close of her brilliant address, by Mrs. Pearl Morrison on behalf of the club membership, which now numbers approximately 1300. The last year has been exceptional for the many new features introduced, by the large attendance at all meetings and the active interest taken by the whole membership in all matters pertaining to civic progress. The meetings are held every Monday throughout the year at Blanchard Hall. Many Glendale women are members of the club.

COLORADO STREET P.T. A. HOLDS LAST MEETING OF YEAR.

The last regular meeting of the year of the Colorado street school Parent-Teachers' Association took place Thursday afternoon, June 7, at 3:15 o'clock at the school house, about sixty members being present. The first part of the afternoon was spent in a short business meeting, in which next year's officers were installed. However, before the new officers were installed the old ones were presented with beautiful bouquets of various colored flowers, by Miss Ida M. Waite, who is principal of the school. She also presented to Mrs. A. M. Beamon, the retiring president of the association, an exceptionally elaborate Dresden pattern bowl. Mrs. Beamon then responded with an able speech, thanking the members for their kindness and generosity during the past year. The other outgoing officers were Mrs. Clarence Goode, vice-president; Mrs. Roscoe Puffer, treasurer, and Mrs. Minnie Kinneman, secretary. The new officers which were installed were Mrs. Frank Chambers, president; Mrs. M. A. Begg, vice-president; Mrs. C. A. Cole, secretary, and Mrs. R. W. Motter, treasurer. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in the following musical program, which deserves special mention for its unusual merit:

Piano Solo Miss Clara Waugh
Violin Solo Mrs. J. C. Orth
Selection School Orchestra
Piano Solo Miss Nelle Hilbert
Violin Solo Miss Lucile Thompson
Recitation, "Your Flag and My Flag" Margery Sherman
Violin Solo Marcella Webb
After the program delicious refreshments were served by some of the ladies.

The race is not always to the swift and it never to the loafer.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

YOUNG COMPOSERS APPEAR AND RENDER THEIR OWN COMPOSITIONS.

Yesterday afternoon the entire eighth period was generously turned over to Mrs. Dora Gibson, the music instructor, she utilizing the time as a public assembly for the purpose of allowing her students to demonstrate a little of their musical genius. And indeed most of them did prove to be geniuses, as some of their compositions were hardly distinguishable from some of the world's masters. Each selection which was rendered was originated by one of the students, and as a whole represented the work that has been accomplished in the music department during the past year. Fifty or sixty outside guests, mostly criterions on the subject, were among the audience, and their criticisms were all exceptionally favorable toward the budding young musicians. Mrs. Gibson should be highly commended for her excellent tutoring, as she has added 30 per cent. to the ability of every music student during the past year. The first selection to be given, a song without words, written in lyric form, by Mary Wilkin, she rendering it on the piano. Following this a song entitled "The Naughty Tulip," composed by Erma Wiltse, was beautifully sung by Marian Addison. The next selection was entitled "Swing High and Swing Low," written by Mrs. Stanton and sung by Marguerite Hauber, Mrs. Stanton accompanied her on the flute. Then Frank Lanterman, who is one of the best pianists in school, played one of his compositions, "The Bolivian Medley," in two parts. "A Bit of Philosophy" was the name of the next selection, being originated and sung by Lucile Negley. Janet Wilson accompanied her on the piano.

Following this the song "What is the Lily?" was sung by the originator, Erma Woolridge, being accompanied by Mrs. Gibson. The next number was written and played by our famous pipe organist, although he performed yesterday on the piano, Richard Berry. The name of his selection was "Romanza," it being an instrumental piece. This was followed by the song, "Swinging," written by Helen Jenkins. As the composer of the piece was unable to perform, the song was sung by Helen Esterly and accompanied by Janet Wilson.

Florence Heacock was the next on the program, her selection being entitled "Nocturne," she rendering it on the piano. This was probably the best and most difficult piece to play on the entire program, and the youthful composer should be complimented upon her musical ability.

The next selection was a lullaby, written and sung by Charlotte Davis. She was accompanied by Mrs. Gibson. Charlotte Davis also sang the next song, "Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary," composed and accompanied by Audrey Hall. "Mazurka" was the title of the next number. Evangeline Quackenbush, the originator, rendering it on the violin. Fannie Hagan was the accompanist. Fannie Hagan also played the next selection on the piano, this time it being her own composition, "Slumber Song."

The program was concluded by the song, "Sleep, Little One, Sleep," being sung by the Girl's Glee Club. Janet Wilson, the composer of the piece, accompanied them on the piano. As the program contained such a large number of selections, it is impossible to compliment each one separately, although each and every one of the performers deserve favorable mention.

CAT MOTHERS SKUNKS.

L. A. Heacock, 518 Lomita, calls our attention to the following remarkable cat story, which he read in his old home paper, the Attica, (Kas.) Independent:

J. M. Harrell killed an old skunk recently and found five of the young animals in the nest. It happened that Harrell had a cat with kittens and Mr. Harrell conceived the idea of giving the young skunks to the cat to raise. The mother cat raised no objections and is now caring for a family of eight instead of three, and all appear to be thriving.

TROPICO P.T. A.

The Tropico P.T. A. held its regular meeting on June 1. Owing to the school exhibit on Thursday, which called the mother and was most interesting, there were only forty present on Friday. Miss Sue Barnwell, a former Glendale High School teacher, was the speaker of the day. Miss Barnwell is devoting her time to W. C. T. U. work and her plea to the women of Tropico was to extend a hand of kindness and friendship to the foreign women in our midst. Begin our missionary work at our door, and our mission on earth is to reflect love eternally. Get busy. Invite these women to our meetings and educate them up to the level along with their children.

The following officers were installed: President, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, 805 S. Central, Glendale; first vice-president, Mrs. Margaret Gaarder, 323 N. Glendale ave.; second vice-president, Mrs. Anna L. Gregory, 402 W. Tenth; secretary, Mrs. Jennie L. Meagher, 319 W. Tenth st.; treasurer, Mrs. Glassburn, 607 Brand.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

One of the important days in the church calendar is "Children's Day," which this year occurs tomorrow. A big double service will be held, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. The church and the Sunday school will unite in this service.

An interesting program of music, readings, class and promotion exercises will be held. There will be baptism of children and children received into the church. An up-to-the-minute talk will be given by the pastor.

To most comfortably accommodate all who will attend, the primary department will occupy the south rooms the main Sunday school the main room, classes with their teachers occupying their regular places, parents, friends and visitors will be seated in the north room.

Those planning to attend should carefully note the time, 10:30, instead of 11 o'clock.

The evening service will be conducted by Dr. Riley. He promised the last time he was here that he would talk on the Chinese Bible, but the calendar for June announces the subject "Affirmations" as his topic. Either one will be splendid. Dr. Riley's study of comparative religions makes him competent to handle the first in superior fashion. If the second is the topic he chooses, we will receive practical help for daily needs, for affirmations are one form of prayer.

LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Tomorrow is "Children's Day" and special preparations have been made by the Sunday school from the least up to the greatest to have a worthy celebration of the same. The kingdom of childhood must be taken into account if we wish recruits for any and every phase of church work. They are our ministers, church officers, teachers of the very near future. Let us rally to encourage them. The service "Onward and Upward," is the one prepared by the Nachusa Orphanage and is a good one, helpful, interesting, encouraging. This service will be at 11 o'clock. Let all our friends take notice.

The evening service at 7:30 is evangelistic in character. The pastor will give a timely and heart searching message on the subject, "A Real Puzzle to God." This address is calculated to make you think. The text is, "How Can I put Thee Among the Children?" "The Friendly Church" most warmly and invitingly calls you to worship with them this coming Sunday. Don't wait. Come this Sunday.

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—Senator Edgar A. Luce of San Diego was leader in the Senate in the number of bills to receive the approval by Gov. Stephens, and Joseph M. Argabrite of Ventura and James J. Ryan of San Francisco divided honors in the Assembly, according to a summary of Senate and Assembly bills approved or vetoed by the Governor, compiled by B. O. Boothby, Chief Clerk of the Assembly. Senator Luce introduced 111 bills; 70 reached the Governor, 69 were signed and one vetoed. Assemblyman Argabrite introduced 36 bills; 20 reached the Governor, 16 were signed and four vetoed. Assemblyman Ryan introduced 33 bills; 18 reached the Governor, 16 were signed and two vetoed. There was not a Senator who did not have at least one bill approved by the Governor, while in the lower House four Assemblymen—Thomas A. Mitchell of San Francisco, Harry F. Morrison of San Francisco, John F. Quinn of Eureka and Henry H. Young of Los Angeles, failed to have a bill signed.

In the midst of this world of human passions there has been working, during all the centuries, the fermenting leaven of Principle, always insisting on its inexorable law which because it has never been obeyed, has, apart from anything else, prevented peace from settling in the world. Gradually, very gradually, as the centuries passed, the democratic idea began slowly to sap autocratic power. But democracy has still to learn that equality of opportunity does not mean limitation of effort, that political freedom cannot be expressed in terms of the repression of the individual, and that liberty cannot be described as the substitution of the autocracy of the mass for the autocracy of a class. In such circumstances it was inevitable that sooner or later men would learn to bring their actions into obedience to Principle, or else that the antagonistic elements of the human mind would produce a world cataclysm. The intensified fermentation in the body politic, growing out of the perpetually increasing effort of the individual to assimilate Truth, produced this cataclysm, with a suddenness nobody, from the most famous statesman to the humblest member of a political club, had ever calculated upon. So sudden and so widespread, indeed, was the outbreak that even those whose efforts, albeit unconscious, had been largely responsible for the eruption, commonly failed to appreciate their own handiwork. Like the Pharisees and Sadducees of old, they could read the face of the heavens but they were blind to the signs of the times.

These people mistook the incoming roar of an ocean, as Mrs. Partington did, for the ripples on the face of a puddle. They imagined that they were looking on at a war of individuals, and never dreamed that the detonations were those of a war of elements. Gradually, very gradually, they have come to see that the paddle was a sea, and that the detonations were caused by the meeting of the democratic and autocratic instincts of the human mind. They have not yet, however, begun to realize that the sea is in reality the sea of Revelation, the sea out of which the dragon, the very embodiment of evil, dragged itself, whilst the detonations are the detonations of Sinai, the thunders caused by all the passions and instincts of the human mind crashing in a hopeless impact against the adamant of Principle.

"THE LEAVEN."

(Editorial in Christian Science Monitor.)

Little by little the world is beginning to realize that what is called the war is nothing more or less than a colossal mental world fermentation. Years ago, in her dedicatory sermon, delivered in The Mother Church, in Boston, on the 6th of January, 1895, Mrs. Eddy summed up this very condition of things in the word "chemicalization." "This spiritual chemicalization," she then said, "is the upheaval produced when Truth is neutralizing error and impurities are passing off." It would be difficult to sum up the political condition of the world today more clearly than in those words. For centuries humanity has been working, more or less blindly, towards a spiritual realization of the riddle of existence. It has made for itself, as it were, a vast network of paths, intersecting, running for a time parallel, and at times at every conceivable angle to those already existing, and nearly all fashioned by wayfaring Truth without a compass. As a result of this the centuries of struggle have proved to be centuries of collision. Every conceivable human answer has been made to the riddle, with the result that those who have made the answers have often merely involved themselves in hopeless arguments, which can only be said to have been even partially harmless when they have not ultimately in actual violence.

Those, for instance, who have believed in autocracy have rallied in all cases to the support of autocracy, and out of this there have grown what might perhaps be fairly described as the dynastic wars, such as the Wars of the Roses. Those who have believed in democracy have rallied to the support of democratic ideas, and out of the collision of these ideas with the ideas of autocracy have sprung wars such as many of those which have won for the Low Countries the title of the Cockpit of Europe. Those whose mental bent has been towards religion have grouped themselves round the various sectarian banners of the world, and proceeded from argument to blows, until they have found themselves in such struggles as the Spanish Fury in The Netherlands or the wars undertaken by Ferdinand, the Catholic, to purge Spain of the Moors. The catalogue might be extended practically indefinitely, if there were anything to be gained by it. It might be extended to cover the class issues such as the Peasants' Revolt, which grew out of the dynastic struggles of England, or of the Anabaptist outrages, which sprung from the religious struggles in The Netherlands. To attempt to deal with it would be necessary to pass to the efforts of military theocracies such as Turkey to conquer the world for Allah, or of autocratic powers like Austria to divide the carnal and spiritual empire with Rome.

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—The State Bureau of Criminal Identification, provided for in a bill signed by the Governor, will have its headquarters in the new City Hall of Justice in Sacramento, it became known today. The new State building here probably will not be completed for two years and as an up-to-date criminal bureau has been installed in the new Hall of Justice, it was decided to establish the State bureau in the building.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—George Radcliff, superintendent of the State Capitol and grounds, has been appointed executive manager of Sutter Fort by the trustees of the fort, following a conference with the State Board of Control. Radcliff has accepted the appointment. Radcliff's appointment to the position of executive manager of the historic landmark of the days of '49 is due to the great record he has made as Capitol superintendent. The position carries no salary.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—California's fruit crop this year will be a record breaker, judging from the reports received by George H. Heck, State Horticultural Commissioner, from the forty-five fruit producing counties of the State. The reports show that there is a big increase in the crop production for this year over the same period last year in all varieties of fruit. The apricot crop this year shows 65 per cent. while last year it was only 40 per cent. Peaches are 86 per cent. this year and only 68 last year. Pears are 89 per cent. this year and 63 per cent. last year. Prunes show 77 per cent. this year against 52 per cent. in 1916. Other fruits show about the same ratio. The weather in the month of May was cooler than usual but benefited the grain crop and propitiously to the fruit in only one county, some sections of Sonoma county suffering from a freak frost.

CONVICTS ON FIRING LINE.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—"Put the young men in the State penitentiaries on the firing line," says J. J. Smith, Warden of Folsom State Prison, who is an advocate of army service for convicts between the ages of 21 and 31. "In what more honorable way could the young convicts of military age be penitent for their crimes than by serving their country on the firing line?" asked the Warden. There is no question about their willingness to fight for America if given the opportunity.

that political freedom cannot be expressed in terms of the repression of the individual, and that liberty cannot be described as the substitution of the autocracy of the mass for the autocracy of a class. In such circumstances it was inevitable that sooner or later men would learn to bring their actions into obedience to Principle, or else that the antagonistic elements of the human mind would produce a world cataclysm. These people mistook the incoming roar of an ocean, as Mrs. Partington did, for the ripples on the face of a puddle. They imagined that they were looking on at a war of individuals, and never dreamed that the detonations were those of a war of elements. Gradually, very gradually, they have come to see that the paddle was a sea, and that the detonations were caused by the meeting of the democratic and autocratic instincts of the human mind. They have not yet, however, begun to realize that the sea is in reality the sea of Revelation, the sea out of which the dragon, the very embodiment of evil, dragged itself, whilst the detonations are the detonations of Sinai, the thunders caused by all the passions and instincts of the human mind crashing in a hopeless impact against the adamant of Principle.

To Paris in 1671 the first coffee was brought and served to King Louis XIV and his court, and coffee became the favorite drink.

The use of coffee gradually spread over the rest of Europe, when in 1912 a Better Blend of coffee was introduced to American citizens of Glendale by Sir Francis Booth, then known as the Coffee King. His store is still in existence at 1005 W. Broadway, Glendale, America, where this Better Coffee is sold at 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c and 45c the pound.

To-day the annual consumption of coffee in the United States is over 925,000,000 lbs.

the struggle between autocracy and democracy is not a mere struggle between crowned heads and socialistic clubs, between the theory of the divine right of kings and of single tax, but is nothing more or less than the conflict between human will, in any of its disruptive phases, and inexorable Principle expressed in the unity of good.

To view the present war, then, as the breakdown of civilization, as the failure of those understanding something of Principle to dominate the situation, is a mistake. "God," writes Cowper, "moves in a mysterious way," and it is one of the commonest mistakes of the human mind to forget this, and to imagine that because a situation does not work out in the exact way in which the individual conceives it should, that the way it does is wrong. If humanity had known enough to overcome evil entirely with good, if it had really understood scientifically how Principle takes away the sins of the world, there need have been no Armageddon of today. But humanity, whose appetites, whose ignorance, and whose sins demanded the sacrifice of Calvary has required the holocaust of today because, in the interval, it has been neither the warnings of the Israælit prophet, nor obeyed the commands of the great Teacher, whose forerunner he was.

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—The State Bureau of Criminal Identification, provided for in a bill signed by the Governor, will have its headquarters in the new City Hall of Justice in Sacramento, it became known today. The new State building here probably will not be completed for two years and as an up-to-date criminal bureau has been installed in the new Hall of Justice, it was decided to establish the State bureau in the building.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—George Radcliff, superintendent of the State Capitol and grounds, has been appointed executive manager of Sutter Fort by the trustees of the fort, following a conference with the State Board of Control. Radcliff has accepted the appointment. Radcliff's appointment to the position of executive manager of the historic landmark of the days of '49 is due to the great record he has made as Capitol superintendent. The position carries no salary.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—California's fruit crop this year will be a record breaker, judging from the reports received by George H. Heck, State Horticultural Commissioner, from the forty-five fruit producing counties of the State. The reports show that there is a big increase in the crop production for this year over the same period last year in all varieties of fruit. The apricot crop this year shows 65 per cent. while last year it was only 40 per cent. Peaches are 86 per cent. this year and only 68 last year. Pears are 89 per cent. this year and 63 per cent. last year. Prunes show 77 per cent. this year against 52 per cent. in 1916. Other fruits show about the same ratio. The weather in the month of May was cooler than usual but benefited the grain crop and propitiously to the fruit in only one county, some sections of Sonoma county suffering from a freak frost.

CONVICTS ON FIRING LINE.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—"Put the young men in the State penitentiaries on the firing line," says J. J. Smith, Warden of Folsom State Prison, who is an advocate of army service for convicts between the ages of 21 and 31. "In what more honorable way could the young convicts of military age be penitent for their crimes than by serving their country on the firing line?" asked the Warden. There is no question about their willingness to fight for America if given the opportunity.

that political freedom cannot be expressed in terms of the repression of the individual, and that liberty cannot be described as the substitution of the autocracy of the mass for the autocracy of a class. In such circumstances it was inevitable that sooner or later men would learn to bring their actions into obedience to Principle, or else that the antagonistic elements of the human mind would produce a world cataclysm. The intensified fermentation in the body politic, growing out of the perpetually increasing effort of the individual to assimilate Truth, produced this cataclysm, with a suddenness nobody, from the most famous statesman to the humblest member of a political club, had ever calculated upon. So sudden and so widespread,
